v.

UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE, Agency.

DATE: November 3, 2011

ORDER DENYING REQUEST TO POSTPONE HEARING

On November 3, 2011, the appellant filed another motion to postpone the hearing. I have reviewed the appellant's motion, and the reasons behind his request, and it is denied. He has not provided any new information to his previous arguments that would make me reconsider my earlier ruling denying his request to postpone the hearing yet again. I have ruled more than once on this motion in the past. For the same reasons I have mentioned previously, the appellant's motion is denied.

In addition, I will not spend any time tomorrow at the hearing rehashing any rulings I already have made in the past. The appellant has filed many objections and motions disputing my rulings and asking me to revisit them, sometimes several times, but I need not do this again at the hearing. I will let the record reflect that the appellant has a standing objection to any and all rulings I have made with which he does not agree.
